

Quarters Add Up Privacy Policy

Introduction

Quarters Add Up is committed to respecting your privacy online, and we have created this privacy policy (the “Privacy Policy”) to give you a clear understanding of how our Web Site operates, and how personal information is treated. We have a clear Privacy Policy: we collect no personally identifiable information unless you voluntarily supply it. This privacy statement explains under what circumstances we gather your individual information, how we use it, and who may access that information. This Privacy Policy may be revised periodically. We recommend that you read our Privacy Policy whenever you visit this Web Site so that you are aware of any changes. Please note that our Privacy Policy applies only to online activities.

Type of Information Collected

When you visit our Web Site, we do not collect any personally identifiable information without your consent. We may collect and store information from you that you voluntarily choose to give us or enter on our Web Site, including, but not limited to, “personally identifiable information” such as your name, address, e-mail address, phone number, and credit card or other billing information. Our primary purpose in collecting and processing your personally identifiable information is to provide you with the services you request or to personalize product information and offers for you. We may also use your personally identifiable information to provide you with additional information about our products and services and to send you information on other products and services that may be of interest to you.

Additionally, we may receive and store certain types of information whenever you interact with us. For example, we may use “cookies” and we may obtain certain types of information when your Web browser access QuartersAddUp.com.

Security and Use of Information

We are dedicated to the security of your personally identifiable information and we take commercially reasonable precautions to maintain that protection. We do not sell, trade or rent your personally identifiable information to others. However, we may share your personally identifiable information with other Quarters Add Up businesses or affiliates, our agents, contractors or business partners located in the United States and/or any other country, in order that they may perform services for us. For example, your personally identifiable information may be shared (i) with contractors we use to support our business (e.g. fulfillment services, technical support, and delivery services), or, (ii) in connection with the sale, assignment, or other transfer of the business of this site to which the information relates, or (iii) where required by applicable laws, court orders, or government regulations.

In addition, since we may conduct research on users’ demographics, interests and behaviors based upon information provided to us during use of our Web Site, we may combine your information with information collected from other individuals to produce anonymous, aggregated statistical information. Aggregated data does not include personally identifiable information. We use this demographic information, such as the percentage of visitors from a particular geographic region, to improve the content of our site.

As our company changes and grows, we might sell or buy companies, subsidiaries, or assets. In such transactions, customer information generally is one of the transferred business assets. Also, in the event that Quarters Add Up or substantially all of its assets are acquired, customer information will, of course, be one of the transferred assets.

Quarters Add Up also uses physical and managerial procedures to attempt to safeguard your personally identifiable information, however we cannot guarantee that it is completely secure from people who might attempt to evade security measures or intercept transmissions over the Internet.

Please be aware that advertisers or third-party web sites that have links on our Web Sites may collect personally identifiable information from you. The information practices of those sites linked to us either through advertisements or other hyperlinks are not covered by this Privacy Policy. We suggest that when linking to another site, you always read such site's privacy policy before volunteering any personally identifiable information on that site.

Our Retention of Your Personally Identifiable Data

Once you have provided personally identifiable information to Quarters Add Up, we will store and maintain the information you have volunteered for so long as you have not directed us otherwise, or for so long as we are required by law. Our retention of your data allows us to continue providing you with highly personalized services without interruption.

Choice

Quarters Add Up believes that choice is one of the most important privacy principles. You have the choice not to submit any personally identifiable information to us (although under such circumstances you would be unable to participate in all aspects of our Web Site).

Clickstream Data

A "clickstream" or "clickstream data" reflect the specific web pages visited by an individual user, and, importantly, the manner or traffic pattern by which a user moves from one web page to another. We may track such information but only within our Web Site; we specifically do not track any clickstream activity outside of the Quarters Add Up Web pages. We track and use this information to understand how our users' habits are similar to or different from one another and specifically to personalize the content, banner ads and promotions that you and other users may see on our Web Site. Clickstream data does not contain or reveal any personally identifiable information about the user.

IP Addresses

An Internet Protocol (IP) address is a number that is automatically assigned to your computer by your Internet Service Provider (ISP) whenever you log onto the Internet. Like other Internet sites, Quarters Add Up may use IP addresses to collect aggregate and anonymous information about the number of visits and site usage. To guarantee your privacy, your IP address is not linked with personal information about you. Quarters Add Up does reserve the right, however, to use IP addresses to identify individuals who threaten our Site.

Surveys

From time to time, we may ask for personally identifiable information when you complete a survey. In these instances, we will clearly describe the purpose for collecting such information, as well as intended uses.

Leaving Quarters Add Up

As a resource to our visitors, we may provide links to other web sites. We try to carefully choose those sites that we believe are useful and meet our high standards. However, we do not guarantee the standards of every web site to which we link, nor are we responsible for the content of non-Quarters Add Up sites. Links to external web sites are provided only for convenience and/or for informational purposes, and in no way constitute an endorsement.

If you need to update or change your personal information you are welcome to do so by contacting Quarters Add Up either through our Web Site or other means.
